FIRST NAVAL GROUP BEGINS TRAINING

New Voice Editor Takes Up Duties

Control Board Elects Bindley as Associate Editor, Nelson as Sports Editor and Morris as Auditor

Dot Rickards, senior from Mechanicsburg, Pa., has taken over the editorship of The Voice for the second semester of this school year. She succeeds John Stranahan who was graduated from Wooster in December. Associate Editor for the second semester will be Joe Bindley, junior from Huntington, W. Va.

Earl Nelson, junior from Barberton, O., will head the sports staff this year following the resignation of Bob August, and Eddie Morris, junior from Trenton, N. J., becomes the Voice auditor since Jane Adam's graduation in December.

This is the first time that the editorship of the Voice has been divided by vote of the Board of Control. The plan decided upon last spring was to place John in the editorship for the first semester, and Dot for second semester. They were each to serve as associate for the other, but John's graduation necessitated the election of the new associate editor this semester.

Dot is a member of Pyramids sorority, and president of Kappa Mu Epsilon, math fraternity. Joe is a member of Sixth Section and has recently joined Phi Alpha Theta and Congressional club.

The personnel of the rest of the staff remain the same as first semester, with John Kovach moving into the managing editor's position, and Betsy Ross, Edith Beck, Betty Gourley, Bill Jones, and Grace Ohki as department heads.

Library Selects Five New And Important Books

Five exciting new books which have been added to the library collection should suit the desires and interests of all students. There is that popular and romantic novel "The Day Must Dawn" by Agnes Turnbull. It turns back the pages of history to the bleak winter of 1777 when Washington was encamped at Valley Forge. This romance of picturesque pioneer life will interest the Pennsylvanians because the setting is Hannastown, a "day's ride" from Pittsburgh.

Alfred Noyes, the famous English poet, has written a timely and pertinent book on causes of the present world condition entitled "Edge of the Abyss". He has attempted to analyze the causes of the present disaster and finds them rooted in the economic, political and literary degradation of western civilization which he believes has followed the denial of the sterner Christian virtues.

Those who enjoy autobiography will find "Turning Point: Thirty-five Years in This Century" an interesting study. It is the autobiography of Klaus Mann, son of the German novelist Thomas Mann, now living in the United States.

"Will Germany Crack?" by Paul Hagere (pseud.) tells the exciting story of present day conditions in Germany. The author is an Australian who has had an active part in underground anti-Nazi activities. The material is recent and credible and makes for good reading.

For all camera fans and those interested in the latest news photographs the "U. S. Camera, 1943" will provide great enjoyment.

All those who have changed their address since last semester or who will be changing during the semester are requested to report their new address to the Voice office. Copies of the Voice will be at the Student Union for those whose address has already been changed.

Fortnightly Club Presents Challis At Harpsichord

Wooster music lovers will have a rare opportunity to hear the music of the 17th and 18th centuries played on instruments for which the compositions were written. On Thursday evening, Jan. 28, in the college chapel, Fortnightly Music club will present John Challis, noted performer on the harpsichord, clavichord, and recorder.

Nation-Wide Reputation
Mr. Challis who has his own craftsman's studio for making harpsichords and clavichords in Upsilon, Mich., has earned a nation-wide reputation for his recitals of music for these old world instruments.

The intrinsic beauty of early keyboard music can be experienced best through the medium of the instruments for which it was composed.

The harpsichord was the instrument par excellence of the 17th and 18th centuries for concert. The principle of its action is that of strings plucked by a most ingeniously arranged plectrum or quill.

Clavichord
The clavichord was in olden times the most admired of keyboard instruments. Having no pedals, no mechanical contrivances, all its wonderful nuance lies under the finger, resulting in tones from a scarcely audible pianissimo to its full power.

"Without having heard the intimate whispers of the sweet-toned clavichord, it is impossible fully to realize the exact nature of Bach's intentions in the immortal '48 preludes and fugues'. And without the pungent ring of the harpsichord in one's ears, the subtle tonal gradations of Purcell or Handel mean only a fraction of what they should. All this was conclusively demonstrated by the admirable interpretations of Challis." This statement is by Herbert Elwell in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Congressional Club To Induct Members At Opening Meeting

Congressional, the oldest club on the campus, will open the second half of its thirty-fourth session next Tuesday evening. At that time, Joe Bindley, Bill Lytle, and Ed Beatty will be inducted into the membership, and several more new members will be elected.

John Smeltz, the newly elected speaker, will deliver a thesis on "The State of the Nation". Sergeant-at-arms Fred Evans will give a speech with the traditional title of "Wind Currents and Air Convections in the Congressional Chambers." There will be the usual current events session, and the adjournment will be made to the Shack.

YWCA Will Sponsor Dances For Navy Cadets

The first meeting of the Y.W.C.A. this term will be held in lower Babcock Wednesday, Jan. 27. The speaker has not been announced.

Dances for the navy are being sponsored by the Y.W. and eventually all women of the college will have an opportunity to attend.

The Red Cross room on the first floor of Hoover will be open for students to work again this term. Time schedules are posted on the bulletin boards in the women's dormitories.

The point system is still in effect and a reward will be given at the close of the session for the girl who has spent the most time in Y.W. work.

College Adjusts New Curriculum For Navy Needs

Several adjustments in college life made necessary by increased enrollment and the essential use of all available facilities have taken place since the entrance of the naval unit at Wooster.

The curriculum has been rearranged to suit both college and navy needs. Classes begin at 8:30 rather than at 8 a.m., and the morning session includes just three periods rather than the usual four. It has been necessary to shift the chapel period to the end of the morning, and a few evening classes are being held. Saturday morning is also being utilized for regular class periods, and more rooms are being used now for classes each period than previously.

Some of the instructors and professors, are now teaching courses to the navy, and their places are being filled in many cases by other professors taking on the teaching of additional courses. A few have their teaching.

The Deans office announced the date for re-examination for those students who received "E" in any subject as set for Saturday, Jan. 30. A fee of one dollar will be charged for these exams and is payable in the Deans office tomorrow.

First of Two Game Series Tonight As Scot Cagers Meet Mount Union

Wooster's rapidly-improving cagers will journey to Alliance this evening (Friday) to take on the Mount Union Purple Raiders in the first game of a home-and-home series. The Raiders, Conference Champions in 1941 and 1942, will be looking for their seventh win of the current campaign against no setbacks. To date Coach Bob Wright's boys have rolled over such formidable opponents as Ohio University, Ohio Wesleyan, Youngstown, and Kent State, displaying real offensive power in each contest. With this impressive start behind them the men from Mount will once again be the team to beat for Conference honors.

This evening's battle was scheduled after both Mount Union and Wooster dropped Bowling Green from their initial slate. It is taking the place of the BeeGee-Mount game, originally set for the 22nd. The action by the respective athletic departments came following the withdrawal of the downstate school from the Ohio Conference. Gasoline rationing and reports that Bowling Green was going in for big-time basketball were further influences in making the decision. Events in Ohio athletic circles have since confirmed rumors concerning BeeGee's basketball aspirations.

Many of the big guns of Mount teams in former years are once again ringing up "buckets" for the Purple Raiders. Leading the parade this season are such stars as Captain Jim DeWitt, Rudy Schlott, and Stan Baughman, ably supported by lettermen Bob Cope, George Ewing, and Wilbur

Stalker Directs Gum Shoe Hop

"Double or Nothing", 1943 version of the annual Gum Shoe Hop, written by Fred Stead, is scheduled for Feb. 5 and 6. John Stalker is directing the production, Rachel Shober composed the music, and Martha Stark is stage manager. Rehearsals are being held every night and the choruses are practicing separately. Stalker expects to merge them next week.

The cast is as follows: Johnny Vincent, Scott Leonard; Vic McGoon, Hal Conwell; Anne Stillman, Dorothy Dunlap; Aunt Rachel Pratt, Janice Howe; Mr. Grodder, Bud Lowther; Mrs. Grodder, Cary March; Mr. Harms, Joe Bindley; I. M. Squirmey, Benton Kline; Telegraph boy, Joe Lane; Dance director, Paul Weimer.

Kappa Thetas See Cleveland Playhouse In Murder Comedy

Leads of the cast of the Kappa Theta Gamma play, "Arsenic and Old Lace", last week went to Cleveland to see the Cleveland Playhouse present their version of the drama.

Rehearsals of the play begin this week, under Dr. Lean's direction and it is scheduled for presentation Mar. 11, 12, and 13, with the possibility of other dates if necessary.

The cast of this play which has been described as a caricature on crime, a masterpiece in lunacy and a coup d'etat in wit will be led by Jane Menold and Clarice Miraldi playing the parts of Abby Brewster and Martha Brewster respectively. Other leading characters will be portrayed by John Stalker as Mortimer Brewster, Douglas Zook as Teddy Brewster, Herbert Rogers as Jonathan Brewster, and John Bathgate as Dr. Einstein. The remaining members of the cast have not entirely been decided upon. They will include, however, Phemia Haymans, Paul Weimer and George Phelps.

WSGA Elects New Officers at Meeting

Eleanor Webster has been made the new treasurer of the W.S.G.A., and Alice Neff has been made the Senior Representative on the Administrative Board. At the last meeting of the W.S.G.A., Tuesday, Jan. 19, elections were held for a new secretary. The nominees for the office were Martha Stark (who declined), Virginia Clark and Margo Drury. Margo Drury was elected the new secretary.

SEF Holds Vespers

The Sunday Evening Forum in cooperation with Westminster Church will present a vesper program of sacred music in Westminster Chapel next Sunday evening at 7. All who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

Plans for future meetings of the Sunday Evening Forum include arrangements for meetings of students and faculty in an effort to promote fellowship between the two groups. A similar program carried out last year met with a considerable degree of success.

Freshman Forum

All freshmen are asked to attend a meeting of Freshman Forum this Sunday at 9:45 o'clock in Kauke 201. The topic of discussion is now being planned by the Forum committee.

President Alice Rodgers has reported that, because of illness the local Jewish Rabbi, who had been originally scheduled to speak, will be unable to be present.

Naval Pre-Flight Cadets Receive Training From Officers, Faculty; Rest of Quota "Aboard" by March

Today 250 Navy V-5 cadets are "aboard" at Wooster in the Naval Flight Preparatory School as their first step toward becoming Ensign and Naval Aviators training. They are under the leadership of Lt. (JG) William Reid USNR, commanding officer and Lt. (JG) E. L. Coppock A-V(S) USNR, executive officer. Two hundred of these men are here for three months training; fifty are advanced and will be assigned to other stations within a month.

Students interested in joining the Voice staff as reporters or business aides should stop at the Voice office between 1 and 5 p.m. Monday, Jan. 25 to fill out applications and to receive further directions.

Those with inactive applications from the first semester should fill out a new card in order to be considered this semester.

Opportunities for freshman and sophomore men are particularly good.

By the first week of February 200 more cadets will be "aboard" and by early March the full complement of 600 will be in training. Kenarden and probably Hoover will be used to accommodate them.

A typical day in a cadet's life means getting up at 6 a.m. (0600 Navy time) to dress, wash and straighten quarters. Breakfast at 6:40 with the first class beginning at 7:20. Those in late morning classes eat at 11:30 in Kenarden; those in gym immediately before lunch wait until 12:10, making two mess periods. At 1300 Navy time (1 p.m.) classes begin again and continue until 1700 (5 p.m.) (Navy time is on a 24 hour basis, eliminating the use of a.m. and p.m.) From 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. cadets have free time. The time from 6 to 7 is allowed for eating, and relaxation at 7 the cadets muster for evening study until 9:30 when they return to barracks. Taps and lights out at 2200 (10 p.m.)

Big Four Plans U. S. O. Projects

The Big Four room will be left open during the day to give the town and freshman men a place to study between classes. It is also to be open during the evenings and on Sunday with supervision. This decision was among various topics of interest discussed at the regular meeting of the Big Four Monday evening, Jan. 18, in the Big Four room.

Several USO projects to relieve the Navy recreation problem were suggested. The pool table was loaned to them to use in lower Douglass for the duration of their stay, and the Big Four in cooperation with Westminster Church plan to buy a combination vic-radio for their use.

The custom of standing a moment in silence for the men in service has been continued starting this week. It is held on Wednesday at 10:25 and the chapel bell will ring throughout.

This was the first meeting of the semester and was presided over by Dick Craven, newly elected president.

Herring Lectures On Problems Of Pan-Americanism

HUBERT C. HERRING

"The first thing to keep in mind in considering Latin America is to remember that it is not a unity." Dr. Hubert Herring, authority on the culture and life of Latin America in his lecture in chapel Wednesday evening, Jan. 20, stressed the individual characteristics and problems of the Latin American countries and our relationship with them.

Dr. Herring has specialized on South America for 20 years. In 1941 he flew around to all the state capitals in South America and interviewed the leaders of the various countries.

He is both founder and director of the Committee on Cultural Relations with Latin America and has attended Pan-American conferences for ten years.

Dr. Herring keeps up his interpretations of Latin America with many study trips to all Europe. "Good Neighbors" Mr. Herring's book which is known to many students, is based on the question: Will Latin America play with us or with Germany?

This lecture has been made possible by the Class of 1917 lectureship which has given the college many

Cowles Addresses Phi Alpha Theta Initiation Meeting

Dr. Frank W. Cowles, head of the Latin department, will be the guest speaker at the mid-year initiation meeting of Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary fraternity. The meeting will be held in lower Babcock next Thursday, Jan. 28 at 7:30 p.m.

A new president, Margaret Welsh, who was elected at a brief business meeting Monday, Jan. 18, will preside at the initiation. Bill Hail who was president last semester and was graduated in December is now in the service and is stationed at Miami, Fla.

The six students who are eligible to be initiated are: Jane Atkinson, Joe Bindley, Betty Lou Dickens, Fred Evans, Richard Matsumoto, and John Smeltz.

In the past it has been the custom of the fraternity to have a formal banquet and an out-of-town speaker for this mid-year initiation which is their most important meeting of the year. However, in line with the many adjustments necessary to war conditions, the group is eliminating the banquet, and has asked a member of our own faculty to speak this year.

Future plans of the organization include papers to be presented by the members on important historical books and summaries of honors papers prepared by its members.

Dept. Announces Oratorical Contest

The Ohio State oratorical contest for men will be held Mar. 19 and 20 at Ohio Wesleyan. On those dates also will be held the state oratorical contest for women, and state reading contest for women, and the Ohio intercollegiate peace oratorical contest. Previously all these contests were held on separate dates.

The Speech department announces that local preliminary contests will be held sometimes in February. Anyone interested in these contests should see Dr. Lean, the department head.

Postpone Coop Concert

The Cooperative concert featuring Ida Krehm, pianist, scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 7, was postponed because of conflicting vacation plans. It is now announced that it will be held on Monday, Feb. 15. As yet there is no definite information as to the program.

First Quarter Bills Due

Students with unpaid bills for the first half of this semester are asked by the treasurer to settle them as soon as possible. Statements for these bills which were due on Jan. 13 have been mailed to the address on the student fee card.

Those students who fail to pay their bill shortly will risk being barred from entrance to their classes.

Hello, Navy!

THE CAMPUS SEEMS strange even many seniors these days, because of the fact that over the Christmas holidays, two hundred and fifty Navy boys were dropped here. The war also removed some of the old faces during the vacation and the graduation in December resulted in the loss of many active seniors.

To the Navy boys too, the campus seems very strange. Although many of them have attended college in the past, the circumstances under which they are present here may make the Wooster campus seem cold and perhaps unfriendly. We students of Wooster have always had a tradition of saying "hello" to everyone we passed on the campus. We can hardly say "hello" to a squad of Navy boys marching from class to class, but we can and will speak to them when they are off-duty. This is just one of the many things which we as students can do to help make the boys feel that they are a part of Wooster.

Wooster has always been a place of fine tradition and great friendships and we hope that the boys of the Navy will feel free to share our facilities and our friendship. It is an adjustment which the student body, the administration, and the faculty are trying their best to make, and we want to say to the Navy that if we seem to be cold or uninterested in you, please overlook it. It isn't that we are not glad to have you; it is only that we do not know how to approach you. Speak to us and we will respond.

Our campus is to be the home of the Navy as well as that of the student body. We are glad to share it and we extend the hand of welcome to you boys in the service. GLAD TO HAVE YOU HERE!

FUR-LOUGH HUMOR

By STARKY

At fifty, a hair in the head is worth two in the brush.

For one-armed drivers: you can't pay attention to your brakes when your mind is on your clutch.

Child's definition: an adult is one who has stopped growing except in the middle.

Texas highway sign: "This is God's country. Don't drive like hell!"

Traffic sign in Pennsylvania village: "Slow. No Hospital."

Will power: The ability to eat one salted peanut.

What this country needs is a grapefruit that can yell "fore!"

"By whom?" asked a husband when told that his wife was outspoken.

At Ease

By ELEANOR HOMAN

With the shortage of food and the over-abundant use of the phrase, "What's Cookin'" this column goes war conscious along with the rest of the campus. During the trenchant worry of premature hangover of a term paper and the grilling hours of bridge, the military command, "At ease!" is a welcome sound. If we are straining mental muscles over math, "At ease" paradoxically means muscle-bound jaws begin their inevitable motion, and — well, Wooster will relax with the shortened week-end and rationed social activities.

Saturday morning classes won't be upsetting Friday evening for LIVINGSTONE; the boys are going to be dancing, eating, and enjoying George Bell's plans for OPEN HOUSE from 8-11.

Saturday afternoon the WAA girls will put some of the powers-that-be behind the Red-Cross more "at ease" with a BENEFIT BRIDGE from 2-5 in lower Babcock. In spite of rationing, there will be food, prizes, and a rubber here and there.

Kenarden will start to make its last stand on Saturday night from 8-11 when SECOND and THIRD Sections respectively (and respectfully, they say) hold OPEN HOUSES. "Big Shreff" is getting big ideas for Second; and Third promises provender and pleasure from Hal Vandersall and the ubiquitous Fred Stead.

Miller's Cabin will be the place Saturday night, and Pat Kline's brain child will take over at the PEANUT very INFORMAL. They're hoping that their taffy pull won't result in too much of a Peanut butter flavor.

And it will take more than foreign complications and the Navy and Saturday classes to eliminate the ALL-COLLEGE VIC DANCE in lower Babcock from 8-11.

University of Texas Students Read Wild West, Dime Novels

Austin, Texas—(ACP)—University of Texas students whose parents once may have frowned on their fondness for "wild west" stories now have opportunity to read plenty of those stories.

The 700,000-volume library of the university has recently catalogued and made available to students a collection of 400 "dime novels," written and published in the latter half of the nineteenth century. The books were obtained as supplementary reading material for students in an advanced English course in the literature of the west.

The books, originally sold for a nickel, are fairly scarce now as not many of them were placed in permanent libraries. The Library of Congress itself has only about 4,500 titles, though it is estimated at least 30,000 were published.

Typical titles in the Texas collection are "Cool Sam and Pard, or the Terrible Six from Texas" and "Desperate Duke, the Guadalupe Galoot."

Splash Of Navy Anchor Causes Co-eds To Wail

Ship ahoy! The fleet's in! This was the battle cry of the college B. L. (before let-down), but soon the proverbial dawn arrived in full bluster and disillusionment.

The dropping of the anchor on the campus had many and varied affects upon the so-called students, but none of them followed the pattern that was so carefully planned by the hopeful co-eds.

During the Christmas vacation, the girls developed a sparkle in their eyes, a lilt in their voices, and hope in their hearts. At last there would be men enough for all... and who can resist a uniform?

Then came the bitter actuality of life. The principal (that means biggest, kiddies) effect of the invasion of the Navy is the complete upset in the schedules that rule our lives. Saturday classes tear us from our oh, so comfortable sleep (ah sleep, I remember it as well as if I'd had it last in '42... which I did). Evening classes

Blues In Berlin By der Fuehrer

War brings many songs. Some of them survive; others do not. Not a new song, but a new turn cooked up by students at Chicago Teachers college parodies the popular "Blues in the Night." The new version, called "Blues in Berlin" was printed in the Chicago newspaper, the "Tempo".

My fuehrer done tol' me,
When I was in Munich,
My fuehrer done tol' me,
Hans—
A Russian will fall back, and give you the east front,
But when the winter snows come.
A Russian's a two-face,
A worrisome thing, who leaves you to sing
The blues in Berlin.

See the bombs a-fallin'
Hear the blitzes callin'
Goering! Oh, where is the luftwaffe?
We ain't got no booties,
All we got is cooties.
Goebbels! Oh, typhus and black plague.
Die wehrmacht! Die wehrmacht!
A clikety-click, and soon we'll be back.
With the blues in Berlin.

From Smolensk to Mzhaisk,
From Kiev to Lubin,
Whenever the panzers go,
I've taken some big towns,
And made me some big talk,
But there is one thing I know,
A Russian's a two-face,
A worrisome thing, who leaves you to sing
The blues of Berlin. — (ACP)

force us into the cold winds of night, and afternoon classes thoroughly eliminate our bridge games at the Shack. (Morale-shattering, huh?)

Of course, once in a while we glimpse a symbolic black tie and fuzzy bush cut or hear the seemingly never-ending series of huh-two-three-fours across the campus. But the closest many of us come to the Navy is to shout "hello" to some stern-appearing "higher-up" who is unfamiliar with and bewildered by the Wooster tradition. (Four weeks from Christmas and the "blush" season has started already.)

But with the U.S.O. dances, some of us still have hope. Maybe some day, we'll see a Navy guy close enough to tell if he's alive.

ENROLLMENT NOTE

College and university enrollment has dropped about 14 per cent in the last year, according to latest figures from the Office of Education. That figure will become more imposing as 18 and 19 year olds—who make up one-third of the country's total male collegiate population—are absorbed by the army.

EDUCATION ELSEWHERE

The Italians are evacuating schools in zones exposed to bombing.

Italy has ruled out new registrations in certain university courses for the duration of the war.

All pro-axis professors at the University of Buenos Aires have been ordered to quit their jobs, according to short wave radio from Chile.

NOTES ON NYLONS

The stocking salvage program will be in high gear by February. Here are a few things co-eds might remember if they aren't already aware of them:

"Useable stockings" include silk, nylon, mixtures of silk and rayon, silk and nylon, nylon and rayon, silk and cotton, and nylon and cotton... Don't contribute other silk or nylon garments... Don't expect to be paid for your contributions—it's strictly a proposition for patriots... Hosiery collection depots are set up at hosiery counters in retail stores... Stores will continue to sell the few new stocks of silk and nylon hose that are left... If you want to contribute your time as well as your stockings, get in touch with your local salvage chairman... And on the final point, Capital to Campus is cautious enough to quote the government: "Be sure all salvaged hose are washed."

Editor's note: This column has been designed for the purpose of presenting to the campus all service news available. It is hoped that it can become a column for the men in the service here on the campus and it is with that view in mind that we extend the offer to all service men to contribute anything which they feel would be enjoyed by all to the editor of this column. A change in Douglass scenery, besides the lights being out at 10, is the plain-spoken signs outside the doors, "U. S. Navy Property—No Visitors Allowed." In other words students cannot wander in to inspect changes in Douglass; even the cadet's families are not allowed to visit. This regulation is enforced not because the Navy is inhospitable or because any highly secret work is going on in Douglass but because there is a serious job to be done and the routine cannot be broken. A CMD (Cadet Mate of the Deck) is on duty 24 hours a day.

These men are taking pre-flight ground school work and will eventually become naval aviators, being commissioned as Ensigns. A few have been in college; most are high school graduates who enlisted directly. Eligible men are from 18 to 27 years old, unmarried, high school graduates and able to pass stiff physical, visual and I.Q. exams.

Courses of Study

Their courses of study include math, physics, communications (radio code, semaphore and blinker), navigation, meteorology, air-craft engines and flight principles. One and one-half hours of gym a day prepare cadets for stiffer hardening in pre-flight school.

Accommodations in Douglass have been doubled. Former double rooms now house four; two cadets now live in "singles". The 50 advanced cadets live on the fourth deck. In making affairs ship-shape even the doors have been removed from the rooms. Cadets are now using college beds and cots; double decker bunks are expected soon.

Confined to Campus

During the week the cadets are limited to the confines of the base, roughly the boundaries of the campus. The exact area is enclosed by Wayne, Beaver, Beall and Pine streets. Cadets may obtain permission to leave station limits during their liberty from 1730 (5:30 p.m.) Saturday to 2130 (9:30 p.m.) Sunday.

For military discipline and orderly movement to and from classes the cadets have been divided, alphabetically, into two companies of 125 men each. Each company is subdivided into five platoons. At first platoon leaders were chosen as alphabetical chance placed them. Changes will come as abilities are revealed.

Future Work

When training here at Wooster is completed the cadets will be assigned to War Training Service, which is similar to the old CPT. From there they go to pre-flight training and then to Naval Flight school. In all it takes approximately 14 months of training to move a cadet from his start of training to graduation from Pensacola or Corpus Christi.

Ensign V. A. LeVair, former Minnesota football star, is Physical Fitness director. Ensigns Peter Wilcox, Tom Herman and Kent Kaighin are temporarily assigned to Wooster to assist in the administration work.

Airplanes

Research on spot-welding, to give more speed to airplane production as well as to increase the plane's flight speed and lighten the load, is being conducted at the University of Southern California.—(ACP)

Plans for more dances and parties for the Navy men are being considered by the deans in cooperation with the coed committee who arranged the navy dance in Douglass hall last Saturday evening.

This week, Saturday, Jan. 23, a group of town girls are arranging for a dance downtown to which the navy men are invited.

The college committee hopes to announce a regular schedule for Saturday evening dances or similar entertainment. At the dance last week men and girls wishing to attend were asked to sign up ahead of time, and this system may be continued.

The student committee is Marnie Thomas, Phemie Haymans, Martha Stark, Tink Carter, and Kenny Comp-ton.

Twenty members for CAA War Training class entered Wooster last Friday, Jan. 15. This new group will remain on the campus for a training period of eight weeks, and will follow the same course of study that previous classes have pursued. This course includes instruction in both flying and ground school.

The men are being housed in Kenarden I and will be maintained as a separate unit from the navy which is soon to move into Kenarden lodge. Uniforms are being issued to these men at the present time.

The men who compose this unit are as follows: Jerome J. Roy, Marvin F. Sandrock, Ray G. Saunders, Walter L. Schesser, Richard J. Schlitters, Fred. L. Schoenberger, Herbert M. Schroeder, Charles F. Schuler, Vernon J. Schwallie, Raymond Scott, Gordon K. Sell, Thomas L. Shively, Claibourne P. Shonnard, Robert F. Silkworth, Richard J. Sinnott, Stanford L. Sirak, John A. Smart, Bernard R. Smith, Donald J. Smith, and John E. Smith.

These men, with the exception of one New Yorker, are from Ohio and Michigan. Their training replaces the old Civilian Pilot Training.

The stiff and concentrated training course, which will "keep them busy from 7 in the morning until 11 at night" will consist of 240 hours of ground school and 72 hours of flight instruction. This 240 hours represents quite an increase over the 72 hour ground course of the old CPT program, but the basic flight instruction, 72 hours, remains the same.

Navy Bakers

A dozen midwest universities have been designated to train cooks and bakers for the navy.—(ACP)

Faculty members who are taking over jobs teaching the navy are under Prof. C. O. Williamson, head of the mathematics department and coordinator of the navy-teaching faculty group.

W. E. Stoneburner, Virgil Hiatt, James Anderson, Jr., Stanley Davis, together with Prof. Williams have taken charge of the first navigation classes.

Math instructors for the naval program are Charles B. Moke, John Hutchison, L. C. Knight, professor emeritus of mathematics since June 1941, and Mrs. John F. Myers and Rev. Joseph H. Varner of Wooster.

Instructors in physics are Dr. Earl W. Ford, Dr. Warren P. Spencer, and Leslie Thomas, of the faculty, and Mrs. Joseph Henderson and Robert Reed, also of this city.

Mrs. Emerson W. Miller, William C. DeVeny, Louis W. Ingram, and Coach William Schroeder are teaching communications.

Two naval officers have been sent to the college to take over the daily physical education classes.

"Sir"

The Navy tradition of "sir" is carried to the point of calling the women professors "sir."

The Voice has arranged for a special subscription rate for the Navy and CPT men on the campus to enable them to receive the college newspaper during their stay here. This rate is set at 25 cents for the semester.

Servicemen should fill out the subscription blank and bring it with their 25 cents to the Voice office in Kauke basement before Tuesday, Jan. 26.

We Who Believe

WE WHO BELIEVE in education have a charge to keep and a future to guard. This is, of all times, one in which we must see to it that "the light does not go out." We are the eternal optimists and idealists. In spite of discouragement let us continue to have faith in education as our one great hope. Let us discover that kind of form of education which will serve the kind of world which we hope is in the making. That will be our contribution to the world of the-ought-to-be. We cannot strive for less." President C. A. Dykstra of the University of Wisconsin.

We students must realize that we are not merely marking time on a college campus during an emergency which has drawn deeply upon others of our generation. For every war must have leaders and specialists, and every war has an aftermath which must be capably handled to insure the future security of a nation and a world.

Our work here is definite and important and should be as directly and strictly supervised by us as are the actions of any of our friends immediately in the service.

To be sure, our stay here might be seized upon as an opportunity for delay of action, but it is rather to our benefit to seize it as an opportunity for rigid preparation for a better sort of job when we are through than we were capable of when we started here.

In short, we are truly the favored few, but in return we have a responsibility to shoulder and a serious job to do.

The benefits we derive from college, as from the rest of our lives, are in proportion to what we are willing to expend in energy and effort. Therefore: to your posts, students; arm yourselves for the better world that's yours to build and save.

C'mon Out!

STUDENTS WHO would like to try their hand at any phase of the Voice publication are being given an opportunity to join the staff now. They are asked to stop at the Voice office in lower Kauke next Monday afternoon between 1 and 5 p.m. to record their preferences and experience and to receive further directions.

We try to give each member of the Voice staff a fair chance to show what he is worth and to advance in position accordingly. Students admitted to the staff are seldom dropped except in cases of obvious disinterest.

Particularly to those who would fain criticize our collegiate attempts, we say: c'mon out and join the fun; the paper isn't always what we had planned it to be, but at least we are trying.

ALONG THE SIDE LINE

By EARL NELSON Sports Editor

Last Friday the Scot swimming team lost their first meet of the season to Case by a score of 42-31. Case was strongly favored to win the meet, but it turned out that the final event, the relay, decided the winner. The Wooster squad for this meet consisted of eight men, two of whom had not even been practicing with the team. A large number of the points were made by the two freshmen on the squad, Ed Holden and Ed Fulkman.

Having so few men out for swimming seems rather unfair to the men on the squad and to Coach Munson. The fellows give their time and best efforts to make the Wooster swimming team, and Coach Munson works hard with these eight men. It seems that more than eight fellows should be out for swimming. It is true that schedules are larger, and that time is more valuable now than in normal times, but to do justice to the school, Coach Munson, and the fellows already on the squad, more than eight men should be out for swimming. How about it, some of you potential swimmers?

Scots Meet Mount

Friday night marks a big step for Wooster cage squad this season. The Scots meet their traditional rivals at Mount Union. This year there will be two Wooster-Mount Union games, one played at Alliance and one at Wooster. For several years two Wooster-Mount Union games has been the cry. Both schools cancelled their games with Bowling Green when the latter dropped out of the Ohio Conference. This gave both teams open date next Friday, so the second game resulted. Last year Mount beat Wooster at Alliance, and the year before, the Scots beat Mount on the Wooster floor. The natural rivalry between the two teams, and the fact that they are generally fighting for the top positions on the conference ladder makes the games between these two teams very exciting.

The Purple Raiders have a good record so far this year. They have won five games in six starts. The Scots have dropped two games in five starts.

Wooster Trowned By Otterbein After Losing Early Lead

The Scot cagers ran into a familiar jinx at Otterbein last Thursday. Wooster was defeated 48 to 42 after taking an early lead which they lost near the end of the first half. Two years ago a favored Wooster team also bowed before Otterbein in their gym.

The Scots led 15 to 13 at the end of the first quarter, but trailed 27 to 24 at the end of the half period as Otterbein began to hit from all positions. The Wooster quintet tied it up at 38 all at the end of the third period as Eicher and Homan began to hit regularly, but scored only four points in the final period while Otterbein continued at their previous pace.

Harry Eicher led the Scot scoring with 19 points followed by Bob Homan with 13 points. The two Otterbein forwards, Shiffler and Helsingier scored 13 and 12 points respectively.

Scots Lose Tank Opener at Case

Wooster opened its swimming season last Friday at Cleveland with a loss to a highly favored Case team by a score of 43 to 31. It was a hotly contested meet all the way, with the final relay crowd deciding the outcome. Wooster's eight man team was sparked by two freshmen, Ed Holden and Ed Fulkman, each swimming his first intercollegiate meet. Between the two of them, they gathered three first places, the only other first gained by Wooster being the opening event, the 300 yard medley relay.

Case was led by their swimming star, Bill Porter, who smashed two Case swimming records in one afternoon, in the 60 and 100 yard free style event.

The outcome of the meet, however, was pleasing to Coach Munson and from Wooster's good showing against Case, it appears that the Scots may

Friday night they will be out to mar the Raider's record.

Freshmen Play

The first freshman to play in an inter-collegiate game for Wooster was Jim Weygandt who played in the Case game last week. Weygandt was put into the line-up after several of the members of the starting team had been put out on fouls. Busack and Lindblum, both freshmen, have been practicing regularly with the varsity, and it is quite possible that we may see more of the freshmen in the remaining games.

Wooster Defeats Case In Second Conference Win

The Wooster Scots played their first home game of the season last Friday with Case and came out on the long end of a 54-35 score. Wooster obtained an early lead and held it throughout the game.

The home team, playing a tight defensive game, held the Rough Riders to only seven field goals, and but for Case's ability to score from the foul line, they would have been swamped. The Scots lead at the first quarter 18-9. 23-15 at the half and 47-22 at the three-quarter mark.

Eicher Sparks Attack

Harry Eicher, stellar center of Wooster, sparked his team with 14 points but was banished from the game early in the second half. Soon after, he was followed by Rich Sproul and Bob Homan. The referee was heavy on the whistle and called 26 personal fouls against Wooster during the game and 15 on Case.

Eicher started the scoring when he tipped in one of Rich Sproul's long shots. Yenney then scored a foul shot for Case and Homan immediately retaliated with a field goal. Case sunk another foul shot and Bill Lytle came right back with two free throws. Case took time out and the score was 6-2, and they never caught up.

Case Outscores Scots

The second quarter play slowed up and the visitors took the edge in scoring 6-5. For the half, 11 fouls were called on Wooster and 6 on Case.

When the second half was three minutes old, Craven replaced Eicher when Harry was chased on personals. Then Sproul went out and Jim Weygandt had the honor of being the first freshman to play varsity basketball under Mose Hole. He played a good game, sinking three out of six field goals.

With the game nearly over and Wooster leading 44-30, Mose cleaned off the bench, sending in Stoneburner, Williams, Deidrich and Cooper. This quintet proved they had it in them and outscored the best Case had to offer—10-5 in the closing minutes.

Six Sophomores Prove Valuable Part of Wooster Cage Squad

The six sophomores on the Wooster cagers squad have contributed highly to the success of the team so far this season. Both Homan and Lytle have started in all of the five games played so far this season. Homan has been hitting the basket consistently with his long shots, and his defensive work has been outstanding. Lytle is a fine team player and has been playing well both defensively and offensively.

Cooper, Benson, Williams, and Kovach have all been used as reserves and will probably see more action as the season progresses. Benson's shooting was outstanding last year, but he seems unable to hit this year. Cooper has been looking well in the last few games, and should improve with experience. Williams has been hitting the bucket constantly, and with his height he should develop into a good basket ball player. Kovach is out for the first time this year.

Wooster Women Serve

Wooster's women are doing their part in the armed forces as well as the men, and are well represented in the WAACS and WAVES. Serving in the WAACS are Katherine Neely, '37, Dorothy Feiser, '40, and Mary Patterson, '38. These girls are all taking the basic training course at different centers over the country. There is also a substantial waiting list, made up of Wooster girls.

Helen Merry, who was Voice editor in 1941, is enrolled in the Officer's Training Course of the WAVES, stationed at Smith College, Northampton, Mass. Other WAVES are Katherine Patterson, '37, Christine Bryson, '41, Mary Elizabeth Ackerman, '35, Dorothy McClusky, '29, and Katherine Rahl, '35. There is also a lengthy waiting list of Wooster alumnae for the WAVES.

YOUR Army has scores of jobs in the WAAC for alert college women . . . jobs vital to the war . . . jobs that will train you for interesting new careers in the post-war world. And here is good news indeed — you may enroll now in the fast-growing WAAC and be placed on inactive duty until the school year ends. Then you will be subject to call for duty with this splendid women's corps and be launched upon an adventure such as no previous generation has known.

New horizons . . . new places and people . . . interesting, practical experience with good pay . . . and, above all, a real opportunity to help your country by doing essential military work for the U. S. Army that frees a soldier for combat duty. These are among many reasons why thousands of American women are responding to the Army's need.

You will receive valuable training which may fit you for many of the new careers which are opening to women, and full Army pay while doing so. And by joining now you will have excellent chances for quick advancement for, as the WAAC expands, many more officers are needed. Every member—regardless of race, color or creed—has equal opportunity and is encouraged to compete for selection to Officer Candidate School. If qualified, you may obtain a commission in 12 weeks after beginning basic training.

Go to your WAAC Faculty Adviser for further information on the list of openings, pay, and promotions. Or inquire at any U. S. Army Recruiting and Induction Station.

Munse And Hole Take Charge of All Gym Classes

Among the many changes taking place on this campus because of the Naval Training is the coaching staff's set-up. Coaches Munson and Hole are now handling all the men's classes, where heretofore there were four coaches, namely Coach Swigart, Coach Schroeder, and the two mentioned above. Coach Hole is coaching the basketball squad, and Coach Munson is working over his swimming squad. The V-1, V-5, and V-7 Reserve classes are also under the supervision of these two coaches. The Reserves get a two hour workout each Saturday during the fourth and fifth periods.

Coaches Boles and Swigart transferred from teaching physical education to teaching navigation.

The W.T.S. (War Training Service), formerly the C.P.T., is taking gymnastics from Coach Munson and drilling from Coach Hole. Coach Schroeder is teaching beginning swimming and signalling to the sailors instead of teaching gym classes as he did last semester.

The women's department has had to make a few changes also. Last semester this department had the entire Saturday morning on its schedule, but now the classes have been cut down to the first and second hours only. The girls' two hours in the morning have also been cut, Monday and Wednesday evenings are game nights, and it is possible that Friday evening may be included.

Even the men students who are minoring in physical education are helping in the Naval schedule. They are training the Navy boys as well as regular classes.

As yet, no definite plans have been established. There are a few minor details to be arranged before everything is shipshape.

Please Return Pictures

The Art department requests all people who have pictures from the Art building from last semester to return them. New pictures for this semester are now available.

Herring Reviews Pan-Americanism

In discussing the history of our relationship with Latin America, Dr. Herring distinguished three phases: 1. A period of indifference and contemptuousness which lasted until the time of the Spanish-American War; 2. From the end of the Spanish-American war until 1927 during the administration of Calvin Coolidge we followed the policy of policing Latin America; 3. Since 1927 the United States has adopted an entirely different philosophy toward Latin America and has attempted a "good neighbor" policy.

Expressing his opinion about the general attitude of the Latin Americans toward the war, Dr. Herring said, "I see the great majority of the vocal people are on the side of the allied cause. However I don't believe Latin America will contribute much to the war!" He pointed out that the material contribution of Latin America will probably be small due to numerous factors, the most important of which is disunity. He also stressed the important role which Latin America may be able to play in the post-war world.

Dr. Herring is hopeful for the future of Latin America and pointed out a few democratic forces and trends which are molding Latin America. 1. Public schools are being more widely established everywhere; 2. The press of Latin America at its best is on a level with the best papers in this country. 3. The growth of a larger middle class. 4. Organized labor. 5. Politics are becoming more flexible and representative. 6. Public movements expressing the desire for an allied victory.

Dining Halls Adjust To College Changes

ing activities divided between the naval and college students.

Dining facilities have undergone quite a great change. Since Kenarden dining room is being used by the navy, all the men students are now eating in lower Holden along with the off-campus freshmen women, and all Holden, Holden Annex, and Hoover women have their meals in upper Holden. All these students now have the food served on trays which they carry themselves. These trays are similar to those used by the navy, and require no individual dishes. Babcock hall still retains the old system with waiters for the tables.

Living accommodations for these new men have also presented a problem. Douglass hall has been taken over by the navy and freshmen men are living at various houses in town, and within the next few months, Kenarden lodge and Hoover Cottage will also be used by the navy.

CLUBS

French Club

The next meeting of the French club will be held on Tuesday evening, Jan. 26. The meeting will take place in lower Babcock at 7:15.

A short business session will be held primarily for the purpose of electing a new vice-president to replace Geraldine Arnold who did not return to school this semester. A part of the rest of the program will be spent in playing group games.

Sigma Delta Pi

Sigma Delta Pi will hold a meeting on Monday, Jan. 25, at the home of Miss Richardson. The program will include a paper on Pan Americanism by Connie Garvin. This will be the first of a series of talks on Latin American relations to be given at future meetings.

Fortnightly

The next meeting of Fortnightly will be held on Monday, Jan. 25. A program of dance music has been arranged, consisting of five piano selections.

George Mulder is the new president of the club, replacing Charles Sommers who graduated in December.

Student Fellowship

At their first meeting of the year, Sunday, Jan. 17, Student Fellowship listened to a program of music and devotions presented by Betty Steiner, Ellen Vaughn, and George Mulder.

For the future meetings a new series of discussions has been planned which will start at the next meeting on Sunday, Jan. 24 at 9:30 a.m. in the Big Four room. The topic for these discussions has not yet been announced. All upperclass students are invited to attend.

W.A.A. Buys Bond, Gives Benefit Bridge To Aid Red Cross

Last fall at Retreat the WAA voted to set aside the money usually used for transportation to play-days at other colleges and buy a war bond with it. This fund usually amounted to about $25, and now the bond has been bought and is in the treasurer's office.

This Saturday the WAA board is giving its annual benefit bridge and tea for the Red Cross. Bridge starts at two in Babcock basement. Prizes have been donated by downtown stores, and all the proceeds go to the Red Cross. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the WAA board.

Eleanor Homan reports that basket ball practice started last Monday. There are two sessions, one for juniors and seniors from 7:15 till 8:15, and for freshmen and sophomores from 8:15 till 9:15 on Monday and Wednesday evenings. Come one, come all. If you have a class when your group meets, you may come to the other group. At least three practice sessions are required before you are allowed to play on a team. There will be club teams, dorm teams, and independent teams, and the tournament will start on Wednesday, Feb. 3. All juniors and seniors must have their hearts checked before they can play in the tournament.

The doubles badminton tournament is nearly finished, and the singles tournament is to begin next Monday. The lower gym is open on Monday and Wednesday evenings for anyone who wishes to play.
